Dear Sir:-

On December 1st, there was a cask of copper for the U. S. Mint, from the Baltimore Copper S. & R. Co., which Seibold says, has been the habit for you to deliver, and charge freight and insurance back. This morning the Copper Co. have a telegram, that you decline to deliver it, without the charges are paid. I immediately wired you to deliver it, and charge same back to me, which please do, and at the same time, explain why this was held for freight charges, when it has been the custom in the past to deliver these goods, and charge same back to us.

Yours truly,

Mathew
